Effective Lifelong Learning Inventory

How can I get involved as an independent consultant or small training provider?

Accredited ELLI Practitioner

Become an Accredited ELLI Practitioner.

This allows you to.....

Access and use ELLI profiles and ELLI methodology in your own work with clients (eg. in coaching, personal, team and organisational development)

Train 'ELLI Champions' within a client organisation: this allows you to train internal ELLI practitioners who can become the internal mentors in a client organisation and continue the ELLI development work

Set up an ELLI project (with support from ViTaL Partnerships if the project has the potential to provide research data) within a client organisation

Access the ELLI database for new materials, research data, support resources

Become part of an active network of ELLI Practitioners who can offer support and guidance on the use of ELLI

Become part of a pool of 'available' ELLI practitioners who could be recommended by RSVP Design for future work

Requirements

What does becoming an Accredited ELLI Practitioner involve?

1. Attendance at a three-day training programme. This is in two parts:

Day 1: An introductory day, to introduce you to the background and potential of ELLI and to allow you to ensure that it is right for you

Days 2-3: An intensive training in the use of ELLI in a variety of learning contexts

(There is a break of approximately 4 weeks between Day 1 and Days 2-3, to allow for reflection and a consideration of how and when to use ELLI)

Immediately following training Day 3, Practitioners complete a 'practicum' exercise to ensure understanding of the key principles and to illustrate their ability to apply the methodology. Completion of this results in the formal Accreditation for 1 year. Within the first year, ELLI Practitioners are asked to submit a case study of ELLI in action. Successful completion will result in full, unlimited Accreditation which does not need to be renewed or re-assessed.

ELLI practitioners buy individual ELLI profiles for client use from RSVP Design and pay a per head fee for each ELLI Champion they train: this cost is passed on to the client organisation and feeds back into ViTaL Partnerships to support on-going research, development work and charitable work with education and not-for-profit organisations.

Cost

Day 1:
£249 per head + VAT

Days 2-3:
£1450 per head + VAT (inclusive of all necessary materials and activities to the value of £1100)

Total training investment:
£1699 + VAT

Profiles:
£50 + VAT per profile

Champions training fee:
£50 + VAT per head
